

Candle Filter

Hidroforce HF-KF series candle filters are used for filtration of carbonation sludge, sludge thickening and thickening of slurries. The configuration of the filter frame and internal parameters, including filtration area, candle placement and spacing, can be modified according to the specific requirements of a particular project. Additional design options include a control system with filter cleaning and programmable automation. Candle filters facilitate the purification of sugar processes and increase the overall efficiency of the factory.

